

subscribe to
 THE ART NEWSPAPER
click here

THE ART NEWSPAPER

RSS | Search

Home | News | Museums | Market | Conservation | Comment | Features | Interviews

IN PRINT | ART FAIRS | WHAT'S ON | ARCHIVE | JOBS | SUBSCRIBE | ADVERTISE

You are not signed in | Sign in to Digital edition
Tuesday 16 Oct 2012

Museums

Robbery at Kunsthal Rotterdam

Works by Picasso, Monet and Matisse stolen (An empty spot on the gallery's wall. Photo, AFP/ANP Robin Utrecht)

Published online: 16 October 2012

All headlines in the current issue

CERTIFICATE COURSES IN ART BUSINESS IN LONDON & NEW YORK

 NEW SERIES BEGINNING SEPTEMBER 2012

Recently published

Michael Asher, the artist who kept the Whitney open, has died

Los Angeles artist known for original approach to teaching and museum hours

Published online: 16 October 2012

Do-it-yourself? Just don't...

A Spanish grandmother's handiwork hit the headlines, but Ajax and rainstorms have contributed to other amateur disasters

Published online: 15 October 2012

Crossover collecting: ancient meets Modern

Contact

New London office telephone number: +44 (0)20 3416 9000

Newsletter

Enter your email for updates and offers

Featured articles

In The Frame

Scenes from the ceramic battlefield

A billowing mushroom cloud made of ceramic fragments rises from the ballroom table at the Holburne Museum in Bath. The eerie installation War & Pieces by the Dutch artist Bouke de Vries plays on the 18th-century tradition of holding a lavish banquet on the eve of battle, complete with >>>

Previous entries

Multimedia

FIND OUT MORE